

TheBestPlaceToSell.com (The Best Place to Buy & Sell good condition used items), the portal site of The Sellers Catalog, was designed to offer the best of other online classifieds while eliminating many of the complaints and problems learned by experienced sellers and buyers. We embrace certain core values and philosophies that only our Moderated buying and selling venue can offer.

The basics we practice and ask our members and guests to recognize are the following:

- items must be sold at a price that is fair & reasonable for both the buyer & the seller
- sellers must disclose any known defects of their item for sale
- the buyer & seller will agree on and honor a price (subject to item inspection) before a time is set to see and complete the sale.

In more simple terms, The Sellers Catalog promotes an environment where everyone "plays fair" with each other.